The World's First Completely AI-Written Pantomime

An hilarious, historic theatre event featuring a star-studded cast of local legends and comedy greats!

This January, we are setting the stage for a professional pantomime unlike any other — the world's first professional panto written entirely by Artificial Intelligence.

Created in real time by OpenAI's ChatGPT using audience suggestions, the show will be performed unrehearsed by a cast packed with TV, radio and comedy talent.

This show is fast-paced and filled with pure panto mayhem – all under the curious command of an AI script.

This show is brought to you by LP Creatives who have over fifteen years of experience writing and producing pantomimes and children's theatre across the UK and internationally – working with the stars of CBeebies and CBBC for such number one theatre and holiday companies such as Butlins and TUI and many, many more.

LP Creatives invite you and yours along to see what might (or might not!) happen!

How It Works:

The show begins with a live, laugh-filled audience warm-up where suggestions are gathered and AI then, during a brief interval, writes the entire full pantomime script using those prompts — spelling mistakes, odd plot twists and all.

No rewrites - the cast must then bring it to life exactly as written!*

Special protocol measures will be taken when entering the data to ensure that all content will be suitable for a family audience.

This includes establishing parameters within the initial AI request and of course a speed pre-read through (by the Producers) to double check all is well.

A word from the Producers:

"This is the world's first completely AI generated panto — it might be genius, it might be chaos...it might fall flat on its face, but either way, it'll be hilarious.

"With the creative industries still grappling with the rise of artificial intelligence, what better — or more brilliantly bonkers — testing ground than the lucid artform that is traditional pantomime?

"This show offers a sharp, silly snapshot from 2026 of AI's current capabilities, a glimpse into the early sparks of machine-made creativity... and yes, definitely a bit of a laugh too.

"Whilst I fully understand concerns about the content of the show, I can assure everyone that I have never and would never put anything unsuitable in front of a family audience. I have two children under ten and embrace parents concerns and let me assure everyone that there won't be anything content wise that you wouldn't see in a standard modern family panto. I know, as I've written over 50! We are however doing an adult panto and it's anything goes there! I just I'm not doing myself out of a job!"

A World-First Pantomime Written Entirely by Artificial Intelligence

ABOUT THE SHOW

Welcome to a pantomime like no other — created by the future, performed in the present!

This is the world's first professional pantomime entirely written by artificial intelligence — and you have the chance to be part of it. Using suggestions from the audience, ChatGPT (the same AI used by millions around the world) will generate an original panto script on the spot.

Then, without editing or rehearsal, our professional cast will bring it to life — just as it was written, spelling errors and all!

This production promises laughter, surprises, a bit of chaos, and a lot of insight into the technology shaping our future.

Producers - LP Creatives

A family run production company formed in 2010. Our mission is to create innovative and accessible theatre for all. We also aim to reach out to the next generation of audience.

Previous clients include Butlins, Haven, Thomson Holidays (TUI), Pontins, and many other smaller independent companies and theatres of all sizes.

As well as numerous children's theatre tours including titles such as 'Santa and the Pirates', 'Fairy Tales of the Unexpected', 'Hansel and Gretel', 'Peter Pan', 'Robin Hood' and 'Treasure Island', LP Creatives have had several pantomime residencies over the last fifteen years under their belt in Shoreham-by-Sea, Leatherhead, East Grinstead, Bradford and Diss in Norfolk. LP Creatives write, design and produce all their own shows with resident set builders, costume makers and musicians.

Lorna Price - Executive Producer

Lorna originally trained at The Arts Educational London Schools, since graduation she has performed, directed and managed numerous shows in the UK and Europe.

Ritchie Chappell - Producer and Musical Director

Ritchie is an accomplished musician but is never happier than when behind a large drumkit or sliding faders on a big sound desk in his countryside recording studio. Ritchie arranges all of LP Creatives music, both covers and originals.

Tom Beard - Producer, Creative Director & Writer

Tom writes original stories and plays and adapts other shows for theatre and radio. Having been a stand-up comedian for twenty years, he now likes nothing better than to sit down and write.

Here are a few AI-style quote options specifically about doing an adult-only version of the AI pantomime for the final show — each with a slightly different tone:

Cheeky & Fun

“An adult version? Intriguing. I shall prepare myself for awkward innuendos, chaotic plot twists, and at least one rogue suggestion involving a pineapple. Let’s do this.”

– ChatGPT

Playfully Robotic

“The data suggests that late-night audiences enjoy double entendres, risqué characters, and unpredictable narrative turns. I am statistically 98.4% ready.”

– ChatGPT

Why It Matters:

With AI dominating headlines and conversations in education, arts, and ethics, this show opens the door to playful yet powerful questions: Can AI be creative? Can it make people laugh? And what happens when it writes a love duet between a haunted toaster and a unicorn?

Perfect for families, school groups, tech lovers and comedy fans, this pantomime is more than just a world first — it’s a joyous celebration of what makes human performance truly magical.

What AI is Saying:

Here’s a fun and fitting quote you can include in the press release or marketing material — as if it’s straight from the AI’s “mouth”:

“As an artificial intelligence, I have no emotions... but if I did, I’d be very excited. Writing a pantomime based on audience chaos sounds like a brilliant use of computational resources.”

– ChatGPT

Or, if you’d like a slightly more polished version:

“Combining live theatre with real-time AI writing pushes the boundaries of creativity, collaboration, and comedy. I look forward to seeing what delightful nonsense the audience and I come up with together.”

– ChatGPT
